

Keeping Children Safe in Scotland

‘keeping children safe in Scotland’ is an online resource that provides guides to child protection processes for children, young people and families who may become involved in the child protection process either directly as a child or parent/carer or as a member of the wider family, and for those who may be supporting a child.

This website has been created to provide information about keeping younger children and young people safe in Scotland. It includes separate sections for younger children, young people and parents or carers.

On this website you will find information about how everyone can work together to keep children safe in Scotland, sometimes called child protection. You can learn what happens if there are concerns about the safety of a child or young person. You can also find out about the adults whose job it is to help keep children safe and what rights you have in this.

The information is provided to help you if you, or someone you know is concerned or worried about the safety of a child or if you want to understand more about how child protection works in Scotland.

Child Protection can be complex and difficult to understand. We hope our website can help you.

childprotection-resource-scotland.co.uk | Guides for younger children, young people and parents and carers

Some of the information can be hard to understand, or upsetting, so it can help to go over this information with someone you can trust

